INTRODUCTION TO CALIFORNIA'S MASTER PLAN FOR AGING

California's Master Plan for Aging (MPA) affirms the priority of the health and well-being of older Californians and people with disabilities. It is a "blueprint" for state government, local government, the private sector, and philanthropy to prepare the state for the coming demographic changes and continue California's leadership in aging, disability, and equity.

Thirty-five days before the 2018 California gubernatorial election, both candidates publicly committed to addressing the looming senior care crisis and creating a California master plan for aging. One in five older adults live in poverty and the state expects to see an increase of four million more seniors needing healthcare and support services by 2028.

The public infrastructure cannot address these needs without significant public policy changes. Having bipartisan support on developing a master plan for aging from both California gubernatorial candidates was unprecedented. We now had the commitment of the future governor to implement long-term solutions for aging with independence.

Governor Newsom made good on his promise after being elected, releasing an Executive Order that called for the establishment of a Stakeholder Advisory Committee (SAC) to help develop components of the Master Plan and advise the California Health and Human Services (CHHS) Agency and the Cabinet-level Workgroup on Aging in the development of the Master Plan.

The Stakeholder Advisory Committee (SAC) was comprised of 35 diverse stakeholders with extensive expertise and experience whose input informed the work of the California Health and Human Services Agency (CHHS) and a new, Cabinet-Level Workgroup on Aging. From September 2019 to September 2020, the SAC met nine times to develop a set of formal recommendations to the Administration. Diversity and the inclusion of people living with disabilities was embedded throughout the plan and remains a major theme. The SAC shared its final recommendations to the Administration on October 15, 2020.

One of the key goals of the SAC was that the MPA not become another report to be completed and then filed away to gather dust and be forgotten. Building on that goal, the SAC called on local communities to engage in their own plans and actions to implement the broad Five Bold Goals that the SAC developed. This approach embraced the reality that local communities vary tremendously in available resources, community needs, engaged partners and political will.

By creating these "Local Playbooks", the MPA embraced the diversity of California's regional differences. Rather than turning those differences into the barriers created by a one-size-fits-all approach, the Local Playbook turned regional diversity into a strength. Additionally, the local approach increased the chances of success and continued effort, as each local plan creates its own momentum to build upon and support the statewide effort.

The Master Plan for Aging outlines five bold goals and twenty-three strategies to build a California for All Ages by 2030. It is a blueprint for aging across the lifespan. The Master Plan for Aging calls on all California communities to build a California for All Ages & Abilities: for older Californians currently living through the many different stages of the second half of life; for younger generations who can expect to live longer lives than their elders; for communities of all ages – family, friends, neighbors, coworkers, and caregivers – surrounding older adults and people with disabilities. The Master Plan for Aging calls on Californians to create communities where people of all ages and abilities are engaged, valued, and afforded equitable opportunities to thrive as we age, how and where we choose.

Aligning with this vision, San Benito County leaders, residents, community service providers, caregivers, advocates, and local workgroup participants have created a Local Playbook to reflect our community's strengths, priorities, and strategies to support healthy aging for all.

This document highlights our commitment to equity, inclusion, independence, and quality of life for older adults and people with disabilities—now and into the future. The San Benito County MPA Local Playbook is both a reflection of community collaboration and a roadmap for moving forward. It outlines actionable strategies under five key goals:

1. Housing for All Ages and Stages
2. Health Reimagined
3. Inclusion & Equity
4. Caregiving That Works
5. Affording Aging

THE AREA AGENCY ON AGING

The Seniors Council of Santa Cruz & San Benito Counties is a community-based non-profit, tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organization providing services in Santa Cruz, San Benito, Monterey, and Santa Clara Counties. It is the mission of the Seniors Council to enable older persons to function with independence and dignity in their homes and in the community to their fullest capacity.

The Seniors Council operates several programs to help further these goals, including the state-designated Area Agency on Aging (AAA) for Santa Cruz and San Benito Counties. The AAA helps coordinate and offer services that support older adults to make independent living a viable option. AAAs also advocate for a continuum of long-term services and supports to meet the community living needs of older adults and individuals living with disability. AAAs also develop Area Plans for the delivery of Older Americans Act services within specified Planning & Service Areas (PSAs).

The Seniors Council also conducts public hearings, workshops, and forums to explore issues of interest to seniors. As the AAA, we work alongside other non-profit agencies, local elected officials, volunteers, and community leaders to identify areas of need and create solutions to address those needs. The Seniors Council receives federal, state, and local funds for senior services; distributes those funds to direct service providers; oversees those programs' operations, and operates a variety of direct services to older adults.

The Leadership Role of the AAA Longstanding Collaboration

In San Benito County, there has always been a high level of coordination between the Area Agency on Aging (AAA), the County Health & Human Services Agency, and local programs. The San Benito County Aging and Long-Term Care Commission, which is a monthly convening of representatives from the AAA, the County Health & Human Services Agency, and local service providers, provides regular and on-going opportunities to discuss local aging services challenges, to coordinate community outreach and educational activities, and help one another better understand the programs and services each provides. San Benito County Health & Human Services Agency staff also actively supported and participated in the successful San Benito County MPA Solutions Summit and continue to engage in local MPA workgroups. Additionally, the AAA Advisory Council provides further opportunities for collaboration and coordination of local services, and this body includes two members of the Boards of Supervisors from both Santa Cruz and San Benito Counties.

Local System Development Challenges

Some of the local systems development challenges to be addressed in San Benito County include:

- Rebuilding needs around the ranks of volunteers supporting key programs such as Project SCOUT low-income tax preparation services for older adults; the Health Insurance Counseling and Assistance Program (HICAP) for Medicare and MediCal enrollment and dispute resolution assistance for older adults and individuals living with disability; and the Long-Term Care Ombudsman program advocating on behalf of older adults in institutional settings to protect their rights. Volunteers were lost all around the state and the world as a direct result of the COVID-19 pandemic, and San Benito County was no exception.
- Leadership changes within the local AAA service provider network which have resulted in the loss, in some cases, of decades of experience, historical knowledge, and relationships.
- Increasing AAA staff has faced challenges due to increased programmatic, fiscal, and monitoring requirements from local, State, and Federal funders.
- The introduction of California Senate Bill 1249 (SB1249) has created uncertainty about the Seniors Council of Santa Cruz & San Benito Counties' future as the designated AAA for the two county PSA, and also caused uncertainty within the local aging services network. SB 1249 also raises concern regarding the potential impacts of state control over local funding and restructuring the State's Intrastate Funding Formula

Successes

Some of the local strengths and successes enjoyed in San Benito County include:

- Seniors Council of Santa Cruz & San Benito Counties' provider network, staff, Board of Directors, and Advisory Council members continue to maintain an active Advocacy Committee and actively engage in advocacy efforts.
- A State of California-designated Aging and Disability Resource Connection (ADRC) in San Benito County, which continues to solidify and expand its reach, and which continues to deliver core Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS) information, referral, assistance, and person-centered options counseling. Our ADRC is a partnership between the Area Agency on Aging and the Central Coast Center for Independent Living (CCCIL).
- Direct service support successes, including the Connections, Health, Aging and Technology (CHAT) Project and Digital Connections Project iPad distribution efforts; State-funded Falls Prevention Program in-home assessment and falls safety services and supports; and more recently, an Older Californian Act Modernization allocation to develop essential volunteer services for older adults in the community.
- Engaged local AAA staff, leaders, residents, community service providers, caregivers, advocates, and local workgroup participants continue their on-going and active local participation in the development of a Master Plan for Aging Local Playbook. To this end, the AAA successfully convened a "Solutions Summit" in San Benito County, in partnership with the Community Foundation for San Benito County, to gather community input for the development local objectives, strategies, and supporting activities for better and more successful aging.

- Seniors Council of Santa Cruz & San Benito Counties continues to convene monthly meetings of the Aging and Disability Provider Network, resulting in a high level of coordination and collaboration with both AAA and non-AAA funded partners.

PLAYBOOK DEVELOPMENT PROCESS

Planning Phase

Two efforts to improve the condition of older adults in San Benito County began almost simultaneously, and joined forces as an active partnership almost immediately. The Board of Directors of the Community Foundation for San Benito County (CFFSBC) established senior services and well-being as one of their top three priorities during a retreat, and made a three-year commitment to that effort, forming a board steering committee to focus on the effort. Meanwhile, the AAA was promoting the creation of a Master Plan for Aging Local Playbook. Recognizing the similarity of the two efforts, Executive Directors Gary Byrne (CFFSBC) & Clay Kempf (AAA) quickly joined forces and began working hand-in-hand to integrate each organizations efforts and impact. The two organizations initially planned to hire a part-time staff person to lead this planning process and other related efforts, and we quickly decided to combine the position into one full-time employee as a member of the Seniors Council staff.

The conceptual partnership turned into an active reality in early 2024 with the support of a Local Aging & Disability Action Planning (LADAP) grant, from the State of California. The Seniors Council and the Community Foundation for San Benito County partnered to engage local stakeholders, gather community input, and coordinate a strategic planning process rooted in the needs of older adults and individuals living with disability throughout the local area.

This planning effort drew on the Seniors Council's decades long advocacy, leadership, and planning experience, as the Area Agency on Aging for both San Benito and Santa Cruz counties, and was tailored to reflect the unique strengths and challenges of San Benito's aging, disability, and caregiver populations.

Additionally, in 2023, San Benito County participated in the California Department of Aging's (CDA) Community Assessment Survey for Older Adults (CASOA), the first-ever statewide assessment for Californians aged 55 and older to share their voices. The assessment was designed to gather critical information about how older adult strengths and needs will impact community planning throughout the state. Assessment results from the Community Assessment Survey for Older Adults will also help California develop and further establish programs, services, and supports that are inclusive and responsive to the strengths and needs of older adults, and San Benito County has benefitted from the information and planning data provided by the survey results to help develop its Local Playbook.

The CASOA measured six (6) community dimensions:

- Community Design
- Employment and Finances
- Equity and Inclusivity
- Health and Wellness
- Information and Assistance
- Productive Activities

These areas of community assessment, along with the Master Plan for Aging Five Bold Goals and their associated strategies, formed the basis of our local Solution Summit convening and initial planning efforts, and highlighted some major challenges for the Solution Summit Workgroups in areas of identified local aging and disability services and supports needs:

- Affordable Housing: Identified as a problematic issue by 48% of respondents
- Health Care Availability: Identified as a problematic issue by 43% of respondents
- Information on Available Services: Identified as a problematic issue by 38% of respondents
- Physical Health: Identified as a problematic issue by 36% of respondents
- Finances: Identified as a problematic issue by 34% of respondents
- Mental Health: Identified as a problematic issue by 32% of respondents

In response to these identified challenges, and in an effort to gather important input from stakeholders and other community members, key planning activities included:

- Identifying key stakeholders and organizations working with older adults
- Hosting informal outreach sessions and networking meetings
- Preparing for a formal public Solutions Summit
- Coordinating with city, county, nonprofit, and healthcare partners

Solutions Summit

The San Benito Solutions Summit was held on May 30, 2024, and brought together dozens of participants from across the county, including stakeholders, service providers, community members, caregivers, and elected officials.

The event began with a presentation on demographic data regarding San Benito County's older adult population; discussed the state of current aging services needs and supports in the County; and then proposed that the group use the California Master Plan for Aging – Five Bold Goals framework to create local aging and disability services and support priorities, and to develop local strategies, activities, and actions to help achieve these goals. Attendees were divided into breakout groups, based on their expressed areas of interests and/or expertise, to discuss each of the five goal areas:

1. Housing for All Ages and Stages
2. Health Reimagined
3. Caregiving That Works
4. Inclusion & Equity, Not Isolation
5. Affording Aging

Each group was led by a designated individual with prior knowledge of the process and questions, guided by prompts, and tasked with identifying short-term solutions that could be implemented locally. A designated note-taker recorded key ideas, which were then compiled and used to inform ongoing workgroup meetings.

Workgroups

Following the summit, five topic-based workgroups were formed. Each group has met monthly since June 2024 and is focused on the following:

- Developing locally driven strategies tied to the MPA goals
- Identifying gaps in resources and services
- Highlighting community strengths
- Creating pilot projects and short-term wins

The workgroups consist of nonprofit leaders, local government staff, healthcare professionals, and community members who bring lived experience and practical insight to each discussion.

LADAP Role

The Local Aging & Disability Action Planning (LADAP) grant played a key role in launching this local playbook. Through funding, guidance, and regular collaboration, LADAP helped create a structure that supported community engagement and ensured that San Benito County's playbook efforts aligned with statewide goals to improve aging and disability services. We would like to acknowledge the California Department of Aging's funding of this effort, as well as UC Davis' guidance in helping to produce our Local Playbook.

MPA Governance Body

Oversight and strategic direction for the San Benito MPA playbook process is provided by a collaborative team including representatives from the Seniors Council of Santa Cruz & San Benito Counties/AAA, the Community Foundation for San Benito County (CFFSBC), key San Benito County Health & Human Service Agency departments, elected officials, and non-profit organizations. Leadership was informally shared by the AAA Advisory Council, the CFFSBC Senior Project Committee, and the San Benito County Aging and Long-Term Care Commission (ALTCC). After months of cooperative management, these entities embraced designating the ALTCC as the official MPA Governance Committee. This governance body ensured alignment with State goals, tracked progress across workgroups, and helped move strategies from planning to action. Not only is the ALTCC an official body of the County of San Benito, but it includes direct service provider staff, Board members the CFFSBC and the Seniors Council, and is open to guests and members of the public.

CONCLUSION

The San Benito County Master Plan for Aging Local Playbook is a living document rooted in collaboration and care. By working together, our community can ensure that every resident - regardless of age or ability - has the opportunity to age with dignity, purpose, and connection. This Local Playbook marks the beginning of a bold journey toward a more inclusive and age-friendly future for all of San Benito County.

Creating this playbook is only one step in the process to aging with dignity and independence in San Benito County. Much has been achieved already, as described in the report. But ultimate success will only occur if the proposed champions and partners step up and commit the time, resources and passion to turn this vision into reality.

We look forward to seeing this vision evolve with changing opportunities and challenges, and we commit our leadership to the efforts needed to see them transition from goals into achievements.
